EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Dear Archie Readers,

I hope you've been enjoying our new TV shows, ARCHIE'S WEIRD MYSTERIES on PAX TV and SABRINA on UPN Sunday through Friday and ABC Saturday morning. In fact, it would be nice to hear from you and your opinions of these shows. You can write or e-mail to the addresses listed below. In addition, there are new comics based on these all-new animated TV shows. If you haven't picked up any copies as yet, there are special introductory offers running in all our current titles. You won't have to miss a single issue, not even the very collectible, number one editions.

Speaking of collectibles, are you a "Furby" collector? I've gotta tell you, those things are cute. If you live somewhere that doesn't allow pets, a Furby is the answer. In fact, starting this month, Post-Cereals and Jell-O-Yogurt are running a Furby sweepstakes. It's an opportunity to design your own Furby. Now that would be a one-of-a-kind collectible for sure. Look for the ad on the back cover of Archie Comics and digests, all this month.

Now if you're a CHERYL BLOSSOM fan, you won't want to miss issue #30. In the feature story "C'est La Ski" the new hot group B*Magic is looking forward to fun and relaxation at a ski lodge. However, Cheryl has other ideas, namely a photo spread of the group's vacation for her magazine. When she attaches a micro-camera to the collar of her dog, Sugar, things really heat up.

Another issue you have to put on your "must read" list is BETTY & VERONICA SPECTACULAR #40. In a story called "The Love Letters," the girls pour through old mementos in a trunk Brigitte bought at a yard sale. When they find some old love letters written by a lovesick soldier during World War II, to his girlfriend, the girls decide to investigate in hopes of reuniting these long lost lovers. See you next month.

Write your letters to:

Benjamin Franklin was the 15th child of his English family who came to America. His father was a candle-maker and soap boiler. Franklin was apprenticed at the age of 12 to his half-brother, James, who was a printer. By his early forties, he was a successful businessman, but decided to retire and devote himself to more scholarly interests. He was elected President of Pennsylvania at the age of 80, and reelected 3 times. He invented bifocal glasses, an air circulation stove, and an ammoniac, which became a popular musical instrument. He experimented with electricity, inventing the lightning rod, which was so popular that Parisian ladies wore lightning rods on their hats. He also linked lightning with electricity with his kite experiment. Franklin was also one of the earlier persons to suggest that the common cold was contagious. He died in 1790 at the age of 84.

Gold is a very precious metal. It is often used to make fine jewelry because it is soft enough to be easily shaped. Gold can be found on the bottom of streams and rivers. Flakes and small chunks can also be found in rocks. Gold has been used for money and ornaments for thousands of years.
